Prime Locations Booming

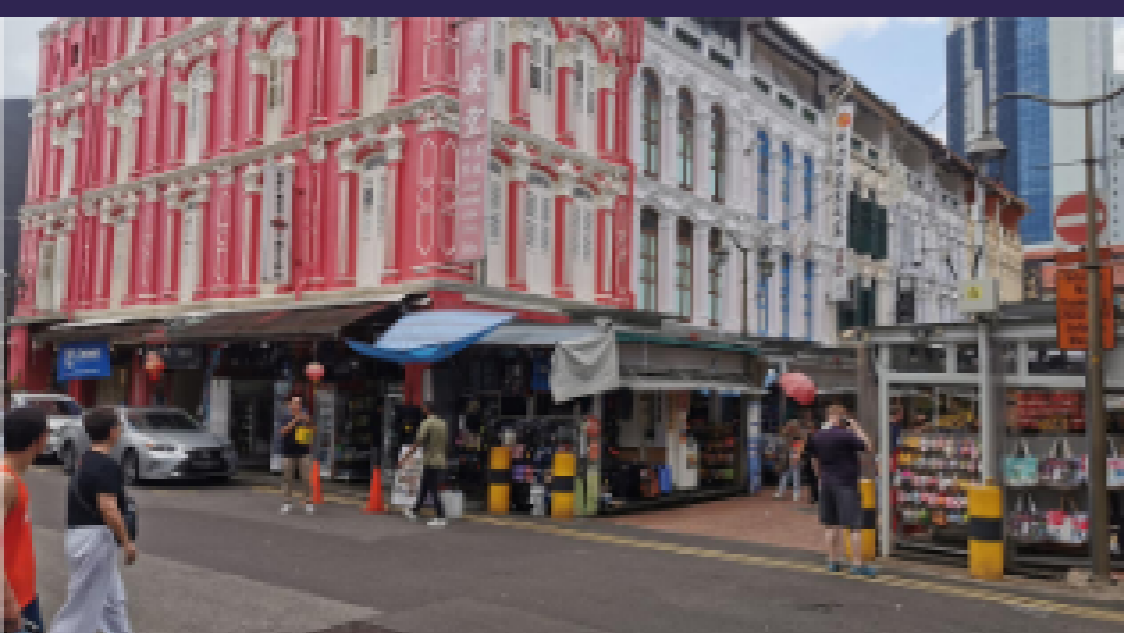

Shophouses in prime locations like Orchard Road and Dempsey Hill experienced particularly high demand, leading to price appreciation.

Strong Investor Demand

The first quarter saw a significant surge in investor interest for shophouses, driven by factors such as low interest rates and a stable economy.

Renovation Trends

Modern and stylish renovations are becoming increasingly popular, with a focus on maximizing space and incorporating sustainable features.

Rental Market Growth

The rental market for shophouses has seen strong growth, particularly for commercial spaces and boutique retail outlets.

Future Outlook Positive

Experts anticipate continued growth in the shophouse market, driven by factors such as limited supply and rising demand from both local and international investors.

Shophouse Market Update

The Singapore shophouse market remains strong, with continued investor interest, rising rental demand, and a positive outlook for the future.
